Next Steps

Set Customer Expectations
This process – our combined company and lead sharing – is new for all of us. Naturally, our instinct is to serve the customers’ requirements quickly and create new selling and servicing opportunities. These leads will be acted upon daily and routed as efficiently as possible. But given the size, scale and depth of the combined company, routing these leads to the best person/team to respond is a complex undertaking. Please set the customer expectations appropriately, such that – depending on the nature of the lead – it may take up to a few days to get back to the customer. The lead recipient will contact you first to discuss the response and follow up.

Expect a Contact from the Lead Recipient
Be sure to provide as much contact information as you can and expect a contact from the lead recipient. This is a great opportunity not just to serve this customer, but to forge relationships in the new Johnson Controls International and expand selling opportunities.
